

THE SOUNDS OF EARTH

Produced by the team at AudioDefine Records, this collection of DSD recordings was designed and recorded during the Covid19 pandemic with locations in Australia, France and Germany carefully captured to give listeners the pleasant sound of the outside - whether it be the lucious waterfalls in the Australian Hinterland or the dense stormy Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes in France.

The concept was quite simple: record the soundtrack to our planet and unmask the beauty of the outside world. Whether you're meditating, studying or simply taking a time-out: this masterfully reproduced soundset is intended to be played through headphones or in stereo from beginning to end or looped without distraction.

We found beauty in the ugliness and we hope you do too.

This release is dedicated to those who have worked to keep us safe throughout the world during times of crisis.
