- 1 This is conceived to set Mr. E.D. a little off balance. Somehow the tune still works.
- 2 Fake German – together with 3) also fake German, it was initially recorded by the Schlippenbach orchestra some twelve years ago.
- 3 see 2.
- 4 In accordance with Thomas Schmitt (Misha belt hierover) I prefer to circumvent the umlaut – schuetzen instead of schützen.
- 5 'Blues after Piet' was originally dedicated to Piet Noordijk. Since Piet didn't like the tune there is room for any interpretation now.
- 6 The Kwela is dedicated to the memory of Dudu P.
- 7 An original Andrea Mengelberg piece here used for fun or whatever.
- 8 'Poor Wheel' is about my first car incident in which one of the wheels of my deux chevaux produced until the next day an irritating squeak.
